Biography
Ms Roberta Pattono is a Policy Officer at the European Commission (Directorate General for Research and Innovation) since 2004. She is currently working in the Common data and knowledge management service. From May 2011 to May 2019 my activities focused on supporting Gender Equality in Research and Innovation by providing and developing quantitative measures to address these specific EU policy needs. Before joining the European Commission I worked at the University of Torino as researcher in social statistics and at the College of Europe (Bruges) as researcher and academic assistant.
